Around the City.

Mrs. A. Malcom advertises a reduction in the price of millinery.
The Beach is looking freight at San Francisco for Gray's harbor.
Mr. D. Bowen, editor and proprietor of the Pacific Journal, is in the city.
Sherry Hart forfeited $15 in the police court yesterday on a charge of vagrancy.
The Fishermen's Packing Company will hold their annual meeting on the 23rd inst.

The London Fisheries Exhibition awarded a gold medal to Barbour's salmon net threads. See ad.
The British bark Osaka, 1008, Storm master, 71 days from Tacoma, is outside with a pilot aboard.
The case of Henry Olsen vs. the C. D. Bryant is set for the 14th. The Bryant is now loading lumber at the sound.

Zandoch appears in one of his great entertainments to-morrow night. Reserved seats at Strauss' New York Novelty store.
An attractive program has been prepared for the concert at the Congregational church this evening. The concert will begin promptly at eight o'clock.
Some Upper Astoria residents are circulating a petition to have the county road changed so as to run along the beach from Johnson's to the White Star Beach. It is reported in reference to the late trial in Portland, Boyde's lawyers agreed to take the case for half the wage. If this be so these enterprising gentlemen will get away with $500.

Fog and sunshine contended for the supremacy yesterday. From ten to the sun shone brightly, but after that great clouds of fog rolled in from the west and made a fine necessity.
At the last regular meeting of the Astor Lodge No. 6, K. of P., the following officers were elected: E. A. Noyes, P. C.; H. E. Nelson, C. C.; J. G. Ross, P. W.; L. Robb, K. of R. and S.; I. Bergman, M. of E.; L. Van Dusen, M. of T.

The matter of electric light for the city is still in abeyance. The question comes up before the city council at its next regular meeting as to whether a complete system will be introduced or only partial service maintained.
Among the many gentlemen mentioned in connection with the nomination for mayor may be named J. W. Hume and D. Morgan, Jr. A. A. Cleveland in the First Ward, and Thomas Dealy in the Second Ward, are spoken of for the city council.

The colored jubilee singers "all black and still growing blacker" did not sing last night, the extreme smallness of the audience being the cause. They did not pay their advertising bills and we cheerfully commend the manager as a bill to theatrical and newspaper men on the Sound whether the troupe goes.
The managers of the Rescue Jubilee troupe report that their Thanksgiving entertainment was a financial success, the net receipts being about $150. The next move will be to get up a first-class dramatic entertainment for New Year's night. The idea is to get an A. L. stoutly built, middle-aged, two wheeled horse cart for $5 engine company, and as the cart will cost about $200 when here it will be seen that about $250 more remains to be raised. This the boys propose to get with the further generous assistance of those who appreciate improvement.

CARRIED AWAY.—Above Westport, at Knappa, on the Cowitz, on the Willapa, and in other localities, embracing a wide-spread area, losses of logs are reported, the result of the recent storm. On the Chehalis a lot of cedar was swept into Gray's harbor.
RECOVERED MISSING.—Nothing has been heard of the Tillamook schooner Alpha for over a week. She left here on the 23d ult., and on the 25th was seen about twenty miles off Shoalwater bay. The greatest fears are felt relative to the safety of the little craft and her crew.

OH, UPON THE WATERS.—The A. B. Field crossed out last Sunday and came in in the afternoon. The captain reports that in crossing he let about twenty gallons of oil slip slowly over the bow, and found it of great benefit in smoothing the waters. For a number of days he noticed in the vessel's wake that the sea was covered by the film of oil was smooth.

RESIGNED.—Judge Stott, formerly of this judicial district, but more recently of the Fourth judicial district, sent his resignation to Gov. Moody last Saturday. He says he can make more money practicing law. The judge steps down from the bench with considerable prestige. Judges Hanna and Bennett are desired to be about to send in their resignation to his excellency.

MEETING.—There will be a meeting at Resene Engine Co.'s hall at eight o'clock Thursday evening for the purpose of re-organizing the Astoria Social Club. All the members of the organization have subscribed, and a good many new names have been proposed. The number of members will be decided upon at the Thursday evening meeting. Election of officers will also take place.

MARINE NOTES.—The British ship Angerona, 22 days from Wilmington, Cal., arrived in on Sunday. The Baltic and Scottish Prince crossed out. Yesterday the Willamette came towing along in the fog and slipped seaward; at half-past the Oregon arrived in. The British bark Asclep and Harry Bailey have cleared for Queenstown, the former with 58,251 bushels wheat worth $61,623; the latter with 37,806 bushels worth $38,081.

ONE THING.—In reference to the beautiful sunsets lately observed at different points along the coast, it is supposed that these are in part, caused by particles of ash coming from an Alaskan volcano. These are carried in the upper currents of the air, and form, as it were, a canopy. In the ordinary position the sunlight passes through this stratum without producing a visible effect; but when the light is below the stratum, as at sunrise or sunset, and the rays strike the under surface of the ash-laden current, the solid particles form an extended reflecting surface. The sun light is thus thrown back upon the earth, and causes the beautiful sunsets which are so much admired.

THE FORTY-EIGHT CONGRESS.

Carlisle Speaker of the House.

[SPECIAL TO THE ASTORIAN.]
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The first session of the XLVIIIth congress began at noon today. Chief Clerk McPherson rapped the house to order and proceeded to call the roll; 310 of the 325 members were present.

Nominations for speaker came first in order. George W. Geddes, of Ohio, in a rousing speech placed of Kentucky, in nomination. Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois, on the part of the Republicans, placed J. Warren Keifer in nomination, endorsing the former speaker of the house. Theodore Lyman, of Massachusetts, placed in nomination Representative Robinson of the same state.

The result of the vote was as follows: Carlisle, 191; Keifer, 112; Robinson, 2; scattering, 3. Carlisle was declared duly elected. He was then escorted to the chair by S. J. Randall of Pennsylvania, and J. W. Keifer amid tumultuous applause, where the oath of office was administered to him, and after brief thanks he took his seat.

The senate was called to order by Senator Edmunds of Vermont, president pro tem., after which prayer was offered. The president presented the credentials of J. H. Beck of Kentucky, who succeeded himself, Palmer, Terry, and of Pike, who succeeds Rollins, of New Hampshire. The oath of office was then administered to Senators Beck, Bowen, Cullum, Dolph and Terry.

Columbia Logging Camp.

"No," said a prominent logger yesterday afternoon in response to our question whether he was doing anything now. "I have shut down, and discharged all my men with the exception of a few that I keep all the year round. It is not likely that I will begin again until April or May. I can make more money by doing nothing for a while than by getting out logs now."

"How is the supply?" "Fully equal to the present demand. I don't know how it is going to be next spring, but take it altogether there hasn't been much logging in the business this season. Last spring logs here and on the Sound went away in one instance that I know of they brought $8.50, but then came a tumble, and if a logger can get $6 a thousand now he is lucky. It is an expensive piece of business to run a logging camp the way everything sells now. Meat and provisions of all kinds are high and have been all along, supplies have advanced greatly in price, and labor, especially during the past season, has been very high. In fact the receipts go for expenses. Some think that the great number of people that are coming in now may occasion the price of labor to come down. It may in some cases, but in a logging camp a poor worker is dear for his board, and a man that understands what to do and how to do it can always get a teamster $100 or $120 a month and grub, but I tell you the man earns it, and if he doesn't understand what he's at he doesn't have a chance to earn it very long."

"I don't just see what the outlook is. You have got to go further and further up the river every year, and of course it costs more to get the timber out."

"Don't you think," was asked, "that the building of the Astoria-Forest Grove railroad would be a good thing for the lumbering interests?" "Yes," he answered, "it would be a big thing for the town and for those who could build a good big mill and ship lumber away. The tract of timber land south of here that hasn't been cut is full of such timber as the world needs and if a railroad ran through the Nehalem it could have it."

China Wedding.

The twentieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. N. Clinton was the occasion of a pleasant gathering at their residence last evening to celebrate the "china wedding." The presents were numerous and costly, comprising every variety of china ware. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Gilman, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. A. McKennie, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brock, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. G. Reed, Mrs. Noyes, Mrs. Tryon, Mrs. Trenehard, Mrs. Nielsen, Mrs. Carman, Miss Badollet, Miss Kate Davidson, Miss Maggie Davidson, Miss Gilman, W. L. Robb, E. A. Noyes, B. S. Worsley, Fred Davidson.

A FALLACY.—In the course of his lecture last Sunday evening at the Baptist church Rev. Mr. McLafferty called attention to one thing which seemed particularly appropriate. It is that popular fallacy that is regularly put into boys' heads that they may one day be president of these United States. How many of us have been told in our schoolboy days that there was no reason why if we behaved ourselves and grew up wise and good we might be great and one day be president! There are about five million boys in the United States, and as there can at most be but twenty-five presidents during a century it is evident that the individual chances are very slim.

CONNECTING THE THREE BAYS.

The Ilwaco, Shoalwater and Gray's Harbor Railroad.

L. A. Loomis informs us that the articles of incorporation of the Ilwaco, Shoalwater and Gray's Harbor railroad, have been filed, and the stock books of the company opened. The incorporators are L. A. Loomis, H. S. Gile and B. A. Seaborg of Pacific County, I. W. Case, of this city, and Jacob Kamm, of Portland.

The capital stock of the company is one hundred thousand dollars, divided into one thousand shares at the par value of one hundred dollars each. The company was incorporated on the 25th ult., and considerable stock has already been taken. The intention is to construct and equip a narrow gauge railroad from Ilwaco to Shoalwater Bay, at Oysterville or a point near there, and from there to Shafers Island at Gray's Harbor. The route has already been viewed, and a good road way determined upon. Work will be begun as soon as practicable. The advantage of this road to Astoria is manifest. For the last eighteen months there has been an enormous immigration to Pacific and Chehalis counties, particularly the latter county. The people that have gone there are largely home seekers. They have taken land and propose to stay; they are but as the first wave of the waves that soon shall roll a human sea. That rich country across the river is, as the Astorians, joined out two years ago destined to be populous. The question of purchase of land is one that interests every business man in Astoria. The trade of that country will naturally go where the greatest inducements take it. The roundabout method of shipping goods from Portland by way of Portland is costly and cumbersome. The shipment of freight from San Francisco is equally irksome to those people. There exists no reason why Astoria should not obtain and hold that trade. The building of the proposed line of railroad will turn the traffic this way and it will be our fault if we do not make the business a yearly increasing one.

"Twenty-four O'clock."

The endeavor to make a uniform time standard throughout the country gives especial interest just now to another proposed change, which has frequently been suggested. It is that of numbering all the hours of the day up to twenty-four consecutively, instead of using the "A. M." and "P. M." as has always been the custom. One of the western railroads has recently adopted this system, and the time cards on the twenty-four hour plan, covering the day to end and begin at midnight, which, it is said, have been used with great satisfaction by the employees and the public. To change watches and clocks to accommodate the new system it is proposed to put the additional numerals in a circle on the dial just inside of those now in use, reading the outside figures for the time up to 12 o'clock, noon, and those on the inside thereafter, up to "24 o'clock" midnight.

The sending out of "standard time" from the National Observatory at Washington to principal places in the country has now become a regular practice, and the authorities are ready and willing to telegraph the time regularly to any point in the United States to those who are prepared to receive it.

Foreign Salmon Market.

There is not much activity in salmon, as buyers are only providing themselves with stocks required for present needs. The merchants generally are only sparingly stocked, and they are in no hurry to replenish their stores, though we see very little probability of lower prices when new salmon arrives. There is a tendency on the part of buyers to secure entire brands, and then run them in as specialties, and secure higher prices free from competition. There is certainly a very reasonable desire to thwart each other when brands are distributed amongst several dealers, but we think the retailers will study their own interests best by taking salmon upon its merits as regards quality, regardless of brand. Another report says: The salmon market for some time past, and more particularly this week, has exhibited strange contrasts. Whilst a few favorite brands have been inquired for, and in a few instances small parcels of them placed to arrive at fairly good prices, other brands, on the contrary, but a little less known, have been quite neglected, though offered at low prices. It is evident that the greater portion of salmon now about must be landed before it is sold, and wholesale buyers generally refuse to commit themselves to a stock of salmon until they have seen it arrive. This resolves in the present state of the market is a wise one few will attempt to deny. Fraser-river salmon has recently been more inquired after, and at the present difference in price between fair Columbia and good Fraser it is worth picking up. Good Fraser-river is now being sold throughout the country at 10c per tin.—London Gleaner.
